INSTRUCTION TO THE AUTHORS

Turkish Neurosurgery will publish clinical and experimental studies from all fields of neurosurgery and studies related to neurology, neuropathology, neuroradiology, neuroanesthesiology, neuropharmacology, neuroanatomy or neurophysiology as long as they contain important and new information relevant to neurosurgery. Turkish Neurosurgery accepts original and experimental studies, case reports, notes on techniques or devices used in neurosurgery, articles on the history of neurosurgery, comments on previously published articles, book reviews, announcements, summaries of presentations at meetings and other previously unpublished material except theses. The manuscripts should be written in English. A cover letter containing the following text should accompany the manuscripts: "We the undersigned authors declare that the manuscript with the title specified above sent to Turkish Neurosurgery for evaluation and publication has not been previously published and is not currently under evaluation by another journal. We transfer all copyright ownership to the Turkish Neurosurgical Society if the manuscript is published."

All correspondence should be sent to the address below:

Türk Nöroşirürji Dergisi info@turknorosirurji.org.tr
Taşkent Caddesi 13/4
06500 Bahçelievler, Ankara
Turkey

The website of the journal is "www.turkishneurosurgery.org.tr". All manuscripts should be submitted via the website.

The manuscripts will be evaluated by the editorial board. The editor has the right to correct, modify or refuse the manuscripts or to send them back for editing. The journal is not responsible for the opinions and comments of the authors. All articles, clinical and experimental studies should conform to international ethical standards and the relevant manuscripts should document Ethics Committee approval of the study.

Preparation of the Manuscript

Title Page: Contains the English title and the name and surnames of the authors (without academic or professional titles). The name and address of the clinic, department, institute or institution is ordered according to the order of the authors with authors from the same establishment being given the same number. A short title is supplied for the manuscript. The name, complete postal address, telephone number, fax number, and email address of the corresponding author must be included. If the study has been presented at a congress or meeting, the authors should include this information together with the location and date at the end of this page.

Abstract: An English abstract should be written in less than 200 words. Abbreviations or references should not be used. The Aims section should clearly and concisely define the aims of the study. The Methods section should define the study methodology in brief. The study groups should be briefly defined and evaluation and treatment methods summarized. The Results section should include the important findings related to the primary aim of the study and the most important numerical data and statistics. The Conclusion section should emphasize the new, original or important results of the study and their clinical relevance. Abstracts for case reports and invited articles should be arranged as a single short paragraph. The three to seven English key words to be included at the end of the abstract should conform to the Index Medicus Medical Subject Headings (MeSH) and should be presented in alphabetical order.

Text Pages: These pages should contain, in order: patients/ materials and method/ case report/ technical presentation/ historical articles; results and discussion. The authors can specify the persons, institutions or establishments that have contributed to the realization of the study, if any, at the end of the text under acknowledgements. The metric system should be used for all measurements. Symbols and abbreviations should conform to international standards. Abbreviations should be explained when they are first used in the text and should be limited to those generally accepted. Tests used for statistical analysis should be mentioned in the text and the tables.

References: These should be numbered in alphabetical order and placed within the text in a parenthesis before the period. The abbreviations should conform to the Index Medicus. If there are more than one article for the same author these should be ordered chronologically from old to new. The names of all the authors should be included. Personal correspondence, articles being reviewed and unpublished data are not included in the references but are specified in a parenthesis in the suitable part of the text. Articles that have been accepted for publication can be included in the references. The references should contain all the references used in the list and text should contain all the reference numbers.

Journal example:

Bilgiç S, Oral Z, Elmacı İ, İlaslan H, Karakuş A: Subtentorial suboccipital subdural haematoma; Case Report. Turk Neurosurg 2: 160-162, 1992

Supplement example:

Altınörs N, Kars Z, Arda N, Şenveli E, Türker A, Çınar N: Spinal extradural metastasis of medulloblastoma. Turk Neurosurg Suppl 1: 144, 1989

Book example:

Taveras JM, Wood EH: Diagnostic Neuroradiology, volume 1, second edition, Baltimore: Williams and Wilkins, 1976: 542-550

Book section example:

Verbiest H: Lumbar spine stenosis. Youmans JR (ed), Neurological Surgery, volume 4, third edition, Philadelphia: WB Saunders, 1990: 2805-2855

Thesis example:

Kanpolat Y: Experimental percutaneous puncture of the Gasserian Ganglion and the histopathology of the radiofrequency thermal lesion (Thesis). Ankara: Ankara University Press, 1978:1- 52

Tables: All tables should have a title. A double-spaced list of the tables should be presented on a separate sheet with all the tables numbered. The table numbers should be included in the text.

Figures: The figures should be submitted in "jpeg" format. All figures should have a legend and should be presented as a list on a separate sheet. Figure legends should be short and informative. The figures (photographs, drawings and graphics) should be numbered and all figure numbers should be used in the text. Any sections revealing the patient's name or identity in the photographs should be covered. Figures in the same column can be assigned the same number with different letters (such as 1A,1B) when presented together. All other figures must be assigned unique numbers. The titles of photomicrographs should contain the magnification. A scale should be added to the photograph if possible. Radiological images (MRI, BT, Angiography) must be black and white. The color printing cost of color photographs, micrographs or figures will be demanded from the author if the manuscript is accepted for publication. The author should submit a letter declaring that he/she will pay this fee, if color printing is requested.
